

In collaboration with the Mechanics Centre Trust, at the birthplace of the TUC

BANNER THEATRE

BANNER THEATRE PRESENTS

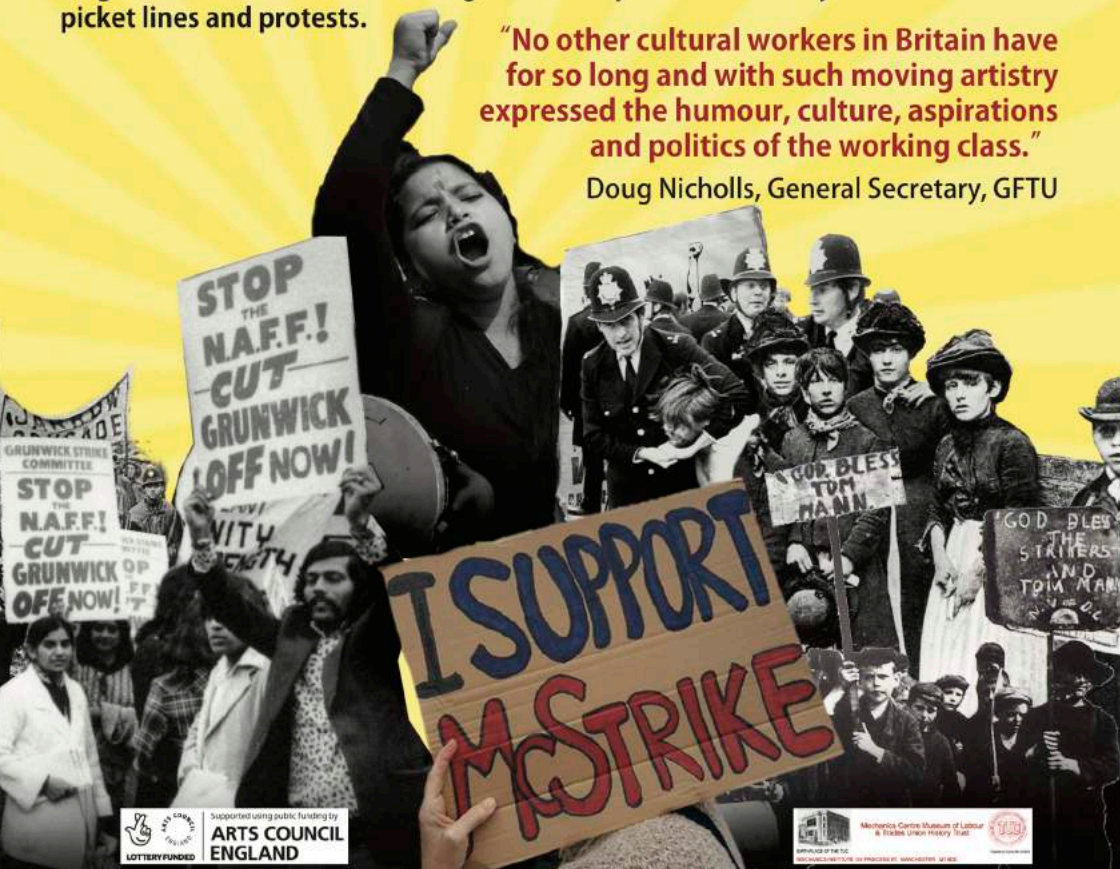

SPIRIT OF 1868

A stirring, riotous and inspiring celebration of 150 years of union struggle!

Driven by exhilarating folk, blues, punk and reggae rhythms, Spirit of 1868 stages stories of workers standing in solidarity across a century and a half of picket lines and protests.

"No other cultural workers in Britain have for so long and with such moving artistry expressed the humour, culture, aspirations and politics of the working class."

Doug Nicholls, General Secretary, GFTU

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND

Thursday 11 October at 7.30pm Clarendon Community Theatre

Nottingham College, Pelham Avenue NG5 1AL

£10 / £5 concessions (low paid & students)

free for the unemployed & asylum seekers

To book ring Stuart on 07891 701133 or turn up on the night

“Why not have a Congress of our own?”

Samuel Nicholson, President of the Manchester and Salford Trades Council, 1868

In the 150 years since the first meeting of the Trades Union Congress, trade unions have led the fight for workers' rights.

SPIRIT OF 1868

Spirit of 1868 is a rousing dramatisation of some of the struggles, protests and moments of resistance that shaped our past and our present.

“A brilliant mix of music, film, humour and politics. It’s a terrific way of reminding us why we need to keep angry, keep organising and keep fighting”.

Jon Berry, Secretary, St Albans TUC

Keep angry, keep organising and keep fighting!

For bookings, contact:

T: 07891 701133

E: bannerauto2013@gmail.com

www.bannertheatre.co.uk

This production has been generously supported by the Mechanics Centre Trust and our friends in the Trade Union movement.

Banner Theatre – Registered Charity Number 510316